Sorted Terms & Conditions

Last updated: 2026-09-23 Version: 1.1

These terms and conditions ("Terms") govern your use of Sorted (the "Service", "App"), a personal finance dashboard provided by AURIQ LTD. By creating an account or otherwise using the Service, you agree to be bound by these Terms. If you do not agree, please do not use the Service.

---

1. About us and these terms

Sorted is provided by AURIQ LTD, a company registered in England and Wales under company number 16813875, trading as "Sorted" ("we", "us", "our"). Our registered office is in Birmingham, B36, United Kingdom; the full registered office address is available on the Companies House register under company number 16813875.

You can contact us at info@auriqltd.co.uk.

These Terms, together with our Privacy Policy, form the agreement between you and us for your use of the Service. Please read them carefully. They apply whether you access Sorted through our web app or our iOS or Android apps.

2. Who provides the regulated service

This section is important and we want to be clear about it.

AURIQ LTD is acting as an agent of Finexer LTD, which is authorised by the Financial Conduct Authority under the Payment Services Regulations 2017, firm reference number 925695, as an Authorised Payment Institution to provide account information services and payment initiation services.

AURIQ LTD is not authorised by the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) in its own right. The regulated activity carried out within Sorted, namely account information services ("AIS") which allow us to retrieve and display information from your bank accounts, is provided through Finexer LTD, a company authorised and regulated by the FCA to carry out account information services.

AURIQ LTD acts as a registered agent of Finexer LTD for the purposes of providing this regulated activity to you. This means that when you connect a bank account to Sorted, the account information service you are using is performed under Finexer LTD's FCA authorisation, and Finexer LTD is the principal responsible for the regulated activity, with AURIQ LTD operating as its agent.

AURIQ LTD is entered on the FCA Financial Services Register under reference 1062474. You can confirm this agency on the Financial Services Register at register.fca.org.uk by looking up Finexer LTD (firm reference number 925695) and viewing the firms connected to it.

Everything else about Sorted (the app itself, the way your data is presented, budgeting tools, forecasts, and insights) is provided by AURIQ LTD and is not itself a regulated financial service (see Section 6).

3. Eligibility

To use Sorted, you must:

- be a resident of the United Kingdom;
- be aged 18 or over; and
- only connect bank accounts that you own or that you are otherwise fully authorised to access and share information from.

You must not connect, or attempt to connect, any account belonging to another person unless you have their explicit authority to do so and are legally permitted to grant access to that account.

4. What the Service does

Sorted is a personal finance dashboard. Once you connect your bank accounts, the Service:

- shows your spending, categorised by pay period;
- helps you set and track budgets;
- shows upcoming bills;
- provides cashflow forecasting;
- offers debt payoff planning tools; and
- provides savings insights.

Sorted is available as a web application and as native apps for iOS and Android.

We provide account information services only. We do not initiate payments on your behalf, we never hold your money, and we never move money between your accounts or to any third party. Sorted is a read-only view of information from your accounts. Sorted uses only Finexer LTD's account information service. The authorisation described in Section 2 also covers payment initiation, which Sorted does not use.

5. Connecting your bank accounts and consent

To use Sorted, you connect your bank accounts via our banking data provider, Finexer. When you connect an account, you are directed to your bank's own secure authentication pages, where you authorise access directly with your bank. We do not see or store your online banking credentials.

Under the rules that apply to account information services, your consent for Finexer to access your account information is time-limited. You authorise access with your bank when you first connect; after that you will be asked to reconfirm your consent periodically, and the Service shows when your current consent ends. If you do not reconfirm, we stop retrieving new information from that account until you reconnect.

You can withdraw your consent at any time by:

- disconnecting the relevant bank account within the app; or
- withdrawing access directly through your bank's own app or online banking.

If you withdraw consent, we will stop retrieving new information from that account, though information already retrieved may be retained in line with our Privacy Policy and Section 15 below.

Connecting an AI assistant

You may connect your own AI assistant, such as Claude or ChatGPT, to read your Sorted data through our connector. The assistant acts on your instructions, and you are responsible for the assistant you choose, for its provider's own terms, and for anything you do on the basis of what it tells you.

We provide the connector with only your own data and our own deterministic figures, on a read-only basis; it cannot move money, change your settings, or make any changes in Sorted. Connector use counts against your plan's monthly allowance and is available on the plans that include it. We may suspend a connection that breaches Section 8.

The disclaimer in Section 6 (information, not financial advice) applies equally to anything an AI assistant tells you based on your Sorted data.

6. Important: information, not financial advice

Sorted provides information and general guidance only. It does not provide regulated financial advice, investment advice, tax advice, or debt counselling, and nothing in the app should be treated as a personal recommendation.

Figures shown in the app (including forecasts, "safe to spend" amounts, budget projections, and any other calculated figures) are estimates based on the transaction data available to us at the time. This data may be incomplete, delayed, or inaccurate (for example, due to a delay in your bank reporting a transaction, or a gap in your connected accounts), and these estimates may therefore be wrong.

Categorisation of your transactions is partly automated, including through the use of AI-based tools, and may be incorrect. You can review and correct categorisation within the app.

You should not rely solely on any figure, forecast, or categorisation shown in Sorted as the basis for a financial decision. Where a decision is significant, such as taking on or restructuring debt or making an investment, you should seek independent, regulated financial advice.

7. Your account and security

You are responsible for keeping your sign-in credentials secure. Sorted supports sign-in via Google, and you may optionally enable biometric app lock (such as fingerprint or face recognition) as an additional layer of protection on your device.

If you believe someone has accessed your account without your authorisation, you must notify us as soon as possible at info@auriqltd.co.uk.

8. Acceptable use

When using Sorted, you must not:

- use the Service for any unlawful purpose;
- attempt to breach, circumvent, or interfere with the security of the Service;
- use automated means (such as scraping, bots, or scripts) to access or extract data from the Service, other than through the features we provide;
- reverse engineer, decompile, or attempt to derive the source code of the app, except to the extent permitted by law; or
- use the Service to access or manage bank accounts on behalf of another person without that person's proper authority.

We may suspend or terminate your access if you breach this section (see Section 13).

9. Fees and subscriptions

Sorted may offer both free and paid subscription tiers. Where a paid plan applies, the price and billing terms (including billing frequency and cancellation terms) will be clearly shown to you before you purchase, and you will be asked to confirm your agreement to them at that point. You may cancel a paid subscription in accordance with the terms shown to you at the time of purchase.

We do not charge any fee for connecting your bank accounts or for the underlying account information service itself.

Introductory trials. Some paid plans may be offered with an introductory free trial (for example, 14 days). A card is required to start a trial. If you do not cancel before the trial ends, the trial converts automatically into the paid plan shown to you when you started it, at the price and on the date shown to you at that time. We will send you a reminder before the trial converts. If you cancel before the trial end date, you will not be charged.

Auto-renewal. Paid subscriptions renew automatically for the same billing period, at the price shown to you at the time, unless you cancel before the renewal date. If you cancel, you keep access to the plan until the end of the period you have already paid for. We do not offer partial refunds for the unused part of a billing period, except where the law requires it.

Changing your plan. If you upgrade to a higher plan, or move to a shorter billing period, the change applies immediately and any unused value on your current plan is credited towards the new one. If you downgrade to a lower plan, or move to a longer billing period, the change takes effect at the end of your current billing period, and you keep your existing plan until then.

Cancelling. You can cancel a paid subscription at any time from Settings, Your plan, or, if you bought it through an app store, through that app store's own subscription settings.

Your right to cancel (cooling-off period). If you are a consumer in the UK, you normally have a 14-day right to cancel a subscription and receive a full refund under the Consumer Contracts Regulations. By starting a paid subscription or a trial that requires a card, you agree that the service starts immediately, and you accept that if you cancel within that 14-day period after the service has started, we may charge you for the days you have used before cancelling, in proportion to the full price of the plan.

10. Service availability

We aim to keep Sorted available and working properly, but we do not guarantee that the Service will be uninterrupted, error-free, or available at all times.

Bank connections depend on third parties, including Finexer and your own bank, and information retrieval may occasionally fail, be delayed, or be temporarily unavailable for reasons outside our control. We may also carry out planned or emergency maintenance that temporarily affects availability.

11. Intellectual property

The Sorted app, its content, design, and branding belong to AURIQ LTD (or our licensors) and are protected by intellectual property laws. We grant you a limited, non-exclusive, non-transferable licence to use the app for your own personal use, in accordance with these Terms. You must not copy, modify, distribute, or create derivative works from the app or its content except as permitted by law.

You retain all rights in your own data. We do not claim ownership of the transaction or account data that belongs to you.

12. Our liability

Nothing in these Terms excludes or limits our liability for:

- death or personal injury caused by our negligence;
- fraud or fraudulent misrepresentation; or
- any other liability that cannot lawfully be excluded or limited.

Subject to the above, we are not liable to you for any indirect or consequential loss, or for any financial decisions you make based on information, forecasts, or estimates shown in the Service. As set out in Section 6, the figures we provide are estimates and general guidance, not advice, and you remain responsible for your own financial decisions.

Nothing in these Terms affects your statutory rights as a consumer.

13. Ending your use of the Service

You may stop using Sorted and delete your account at any time within the app.

We may suspend or terminate your access to the Service if:

- you breach these Terms, including the acceptable use requirements in Section 8;
- we reasonably believe your use of the Service is unlawful or fraudulent;
- we are required to do so by law or regulation; or
- Finexer requires us to suspend or terminate access as the provider of the underlying regulated service.

Where reasonably possible, we will give you notice before suspending or terminating your account.

14. Complaints

Sorted is a trading name of AURIQ LTD, so any complaint about Sorted is a complaint about AURIQ LTD.

Step 1: tell us. Please contact AURIQ LTD first at info@auriqltd.co.uk. We will acknowledge your complaint within 3 business days and aim to resolve it within 8 weeks.

Step 2: Finexer LTD. Because the regulated account information service is provided by Finexer LTD as principal (see Section 2), you can also complain to Finexer LTD about that regulated activity, via finexer.com. We will cooperate with Finexer LTD on any such complaint.

Step 3: the Financial Ombudsman Service. If either of us does not resolve your complaint properly, you may be able to refer it to the Financial Ombudsman Service. You may be able to do this if you have not had a final response within eight weeks, or within six months of receiving our final response. The Financial Ombudsman Service decides whether a complaint falls within its remit.

The Financial Services Compensation Scheme does not cover AURIQ LTD. Sorted never holds your money.

15. Data protection

We handle your personal data in accordance with our Privacy Policy, which explains what data we collect, how we use it, how long we keep it, and your rights. Please read our Privacy Policy alongside these Terms.

16. Changes to these Terms

We may update these Terms from time to time, for example to reflect changes in our services, our providers, or the law. Where we make material changes, we will notify you in advance, such as by email or in-app notice. Your continued use of the Service after a change takes effect constitutes your acceptance of the updated Terms.

17. Governing law

These Terms are governed by the laws of England and Wales. Any dispute arising out of or in connection with these Terms or the Service will be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of England and Wales. Nothing in these Terms affects your statutory rights as a consumer, including your right to bring proceedings in the courts of the part of the UK in which you live.

18. Contact us

If you have any questions about these Terms or the Service, please contact us at:

AURIQ LTD Birmingham, B36, United Kingdom Email: info@auriqltd.co.uk

AURIQ LTD is acting as an agent of Finexer LTD, which is authorised by the Financial Conduct Authority under the Payment Services Regulations 2017, firm reference number 925695, as an Authorised Payment Institution to provide account information services and payment initiation services.